BIO

Yili (Kevin) Hong is an Associate Professor, Co-Director of the Digital Society Initiative, and the Director of Ph.D. Program in the Department of Information Systems at the W. P. Carey School of Business of Arizona State University. Kevin obtained his Ph.D. in Management Information Systems at the Fox School of Business, Temple University. He is currently a Senior Editor at Production and Operations Management (POMJ), and an Associate Editor at Information Systems Research (ISR) and the Journal of the Association for Information Systems (JAIS). He is also an associate editor for the ISR special issues on “Future of Work, Organizations, and Society” and “Market Design and Analytics.”

Kevin’s research interests are in the areas of Digital Platforms, Sharing Economy, Future of Work, Human-AI Interactions, and Business Analytics. His research has been published in premier journals such as Management Science, Information Systems Research, MIS Quarterly, Journal of Management Information Systems, Journal of the Association for Information Systems, and the Journal of Consumer Psychology. Kevin’s work has been supported by multiple prestigious grants, from the National Science Foundation (2018-2020), the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation (2017-2020), the NET Institute (2013, 2014, 2015, 2016, 2017, 2018), as well as the Department of Education (2011, 2013, 2015).

Kevin’s research on online labor markets and gig economy was awarded ACM SIGMIS Best Dissertation Award (2014) and runner-up INFORMS ISS Nunamaker-Chen Dissertation Award (2014). His research papers have received numerous best paper awards at major conferences, including the Workshop on Information Systems and Economics (2018), International Conference on Information Systems (2012, 2018), Hawaii International Conference on System Sciences (2017), America’s Conference on Information Systems (2012), and the China Summer Workshop on Information Management (2018). In 2017, Kevin was awarded the college-wide W. P. Carey Faculty Research Award; Kevin was awarded the AIS Early Career Award (2018) and INFORMS Information Systems Society Early Career Award (2019), respectively. And Kevin was awarded the Best Associate Editor of Information Systems Research for his editorial contributions in 2018. According to the AIS Research Rankings, Kevin was ranked #3 based on publications in the Top 4 Information Systems Journals (MISQ, ISR, JMIS, JAIS) and #7 based on the Top 2 Information Systems journals (MISQ, ISR) for the past 3 years (2016-2018).

At W. P. Carey School of Business, Kevin has taught and led the curriculum development at both the undergraduate (CIS and BDA) and graduate (MS-BA and PhD) levels. Notably, he led the initiative in designing and implementing the new undergraduate college-level analytics core course – Problem Solving and Actionable Analytics (WPC300). And most recently, he serves as the course coordinator for WPC300, overseeing over 40 sections of the course each year taught by instructors from multiple departments. Further, he led a team of analytics faculty in designing, implementing, and coordinating the core college analytics course in the online and hybrid (onsite + online) formats. Here is a live stream recording of Kevin talking about analytics teaching and research in the W. P. Carey ‘Back-to-Class’ Alumni event in April 2019. He received Department of Information Systems’ Outstanding Teaching Award in 2016, and was a finalist for the W. P. Carey Huizinga Undergraduate Teaching Award in 2019.

Prior to his academic career, Kevin has worked at China International Capital Corporation (CICC), a large investment bank in China. Besides research and teaching as a faculty member, Kevin serves as an advisor or has been an external research scientist for a number of companies, including Lyft, Freelancer, Magene, Meishijie, Summer, PetSmart, fits.me, Yamibuy, Ports America, and Picmonic.
